

Information for Security Training

Security awareness training in accordance with No. 11.2.6 of the Delegated Regulation (EU) 2015/1998

In accordance with Section 8 (1) sentence 1 no. 6 of the Aviation Security Act (LuftSiG), the operators of a commercial airport are obliged to train security personnel for their tasks and to subject all other employees to a security training programme. In order to protect airport operations from attacks on air traffic security, this applies to all employees with an Airport ID Card and access to the security area of the airport.

With the entry into force of the Aviation Security Training Ordinance (LuftSiSchulV) on 2 April 2008, persons who require access to security areas must receive security training. Proof must be provided before an Airport ID Card can be issued!

This training measure must be renewed every five years.

If this is not complied with, you are obliged to return any ID Cards that have already been issued!

External certificates of Security Training courses in accordance with Regulation (EU) 2015/1998 can be recognised for a fee.

We offer this Security Training as an online course.

Please register your employees by e-mail with the ID Card Service bindingly and for a charge.

For this, the following data are required:

- all given names
- surname
- date of birth

We will then send you the access data for the online course and a link that the person in concerned can use to register. After registration, the booked course will be available.

The participant now has a one-off opportunity to check their personal details and add or change them if necessary. This course takes approximately three hours to complete. You can take breaks and interrupt the training at any time. At the end of the course, you will be taken to a final test, which you must complete successfully.

The training course needs to be completed within 3 weeks.

If you are unable to meet this deadline or fail the test three times, you have to request new access data via the ID Card Service.

The costs per allocated access will be charged in accordance with the applicable service fees of TRIWO Hahn Airport GmbH and are payable irrespective of the use of the online course.
